

SEPTEMBER - OCTOBER 2021 EDITION

A MESSAGE FROM THE PD CORE DIRECTOR

Hello and welcome to the first Newsflash from the MW CTR-IN Professional Development Core for the 2021-2022 Academic Year. The summer proved more stressful to many of us than we would have hoped, for a variety of reasons, and we hope that the fall and new school year mark the beginning of change and growth for everyone.

We began the new Ambassador Translational Research in Progress (ATRIP) program year with an exciting presentation by our new MW CTR-IN PI, Dr. Francisco Sy. If you did not get a chance to join us, please visit the ATRIP Resource Portal for a copy of his slides (<https://ctrin.health.umt.edu/public/atrips>). Dr. Sy discussed changes to the external advisory board along with a variety of new initiatives and FOAs that are now available from MW CTR-IN. You can also download the slides from my ATRIP presentation which reviewed the various resources that the PD Core provides, our latest results from those resources, and slide templates that you can use for your ATRIP research in progress presentation.

There is still room on the ATRIP calendar to add yourself to a session to present your research in progress, or email me (Imyaskovsky@salud.unm.edu) with requests for specific didactics that may be of interest to you or your colleagues. Our next session is scheduled for Friday, October 8th, 2021. I hope you can join us!

Happy reading from the PD Core! We look forward to connecting with you soon!

Sincerely,
Larissa Myaskovsky, PhD
 Director, ATRIP Program

MENTORSHIP

Akshay Sood, MD, MPH
 Associate Director, PD Core
 Mentoring Unit

We welcome you to become a more skillful mentor in scholarship by participating in the next training cycle of the Faculty Mentor Development Program (FMDP) and NIH-funded research study (UOGM132175) below:

January 26, 2022 - March 9, 2022

The study examines current best practices in faculty mentoring by randomizing participant to online asynchronous coursework alone or combined with video synchronous workshops.

GRANTSPERSONSHIP

Ruben Dagda, PhD
 Associate Director, PD Core
 Program Coordinator, ATF &
 GWW Programs

The next Grant Writing Workshop (GWW) will be offered during the Spring 2022 semester (date TBD). The GWW will be targeted for junior CTR faculty who are developing a major extramural grant for submission within the next 9-12 months, and have on-going MW CTR-IN pilot grants, or are yet to be funded. Given the ongoing SARS-COV-2 pandemic, the GWW will be offered virtually through Zoom. Online applications will be accepted by late October/November 2021 through the MW CTR-IN GWW Webpage, please stay tuned for more details.

We continue to offer Advance to Funding (ATF) virtual study sections to provide expert peer review of your grant proposals before sending them off. These sessions are offered year-round, with funds available to pay for reviews.

TO APPLY FOR THE ATF PROGRAM, PLEASE LOG-ON TO THE MW CTR-IN PORTAL HERE (After Log-in, please click on "ATFs" section under Support)
